

SHELTR TrainingSM Program

Active Threat

Active Shooter

What is an Active Shooter – Active Threat

An ‘Active Shooter’ is one or more individuals actively engaged in systematically and/or randomly killing, or attempting to kill people in a confined space or other populated area utilizing a series of different weapons. An ‘Active Threat’ acts in the same manner as an Active Shooter to create a deliberate and immediate threat and/or presents an imminent danger to the campus community. This may be in the capacity of using Stabbing Weapons, Taking Hostage(s), Sniper, Suicide Bomber, Homicide Bomber, the repositioning of Bombing/Fire Devices, and/or Gas (Biological/Chemical) Threat.

How Prepared are Schools Today to Respond to an Active Threat

It is extremely varied. A school's ability to prepare for an Active Threat is based on funds available for that individual school (or school system), the current technologies of that school's local law enforcement, the Active Threat training local law enforcement has available, interaction the school (or school system) has with local law enforcement, etc. Our research has shown that very few teachers (much less cafeteria workers, maintenance workers, etc.) in the US School systems are trained on Active Threat Response. In our preliminary research, we have not found any teachers that have been trained in Active Threat Response specific to their school.

What Actions do Schools Need to Take

Schools need to become secure environments. Each school needs to develop a secure plan for that individual school. Generic training does not effectively train School faculty, administrators, and staff on the protective measures necessary to keep their specific school safe. Each building design, operating protocols of the school's operations, even outside climates and terrain are different for every school. Dedicated security and defense plans must be developed and put in place to ensure the safety of all aspects specific to each school building.

What is ‘SHELTR’ TrainingSM

School Hazard-Emergency-Lethal Threat Response (SHELTRTM) Training provides Teachers, School Administrators, cafeteria employees, maintenance staff, grounds keepers, etc. with training tools and techniques in which to keep their school safe. These tools and techniques are meant to show how to create daily security routines, “LOOK” for things that are out of the norm, “REPORT” incidents in a timely and accurate manner, and “RESPOND” if your campus becomes engaged by a threat or emergency.

Why is ‘SHELTR’ TrainingSM Necessary

Unfortunately schools around the world are becoming a target to foreign and domestic terrorism. There are not enough law enforcement officers available to secure every location where a terrorist or terrorist organization may attack. As it relates to the schools in America, it falls on the teachers, school administrators, staff, students and even parents to ensure THEIR school is made to be a safe environment. The “SHELTR” TrainingSM courses and Tactical Protective Gear gives the school a chance to defend from an Active Threat.

Website: www.sheltrusa.com
Email: training@sheltrusa.com
Phone: 434 792 8116

Proud Sponsor of:

NORRHURST

Tactical

What Makes This Training Credible

The 'SHELTR' Training Program has been developed by former US Army Special Forces, US Marine Corp Tactical Police, Law Enforcement, and School administrators. As the training is provided, it is constantly being evaluated for completeness and relevance. Updates are created as needed and added to the training courses. To ensure schools maintain the highest possible readiness posture, these same updates are provided to every institution that has completed the training through the 'SHELTR VISION'™ MOBILE PHONE APPLICATION.

Who Teaches the 'SHELTR' Training Courses

The "SHELTR" Training is conducted by a team of over 500 former US Army, US Marine Corp, US Air Force, and Law Enforcement personnel dedicated to the mission of keeping Safe Schools in America (safeschoolsinamerica.com)

What are the Components of the Program

The SHELTR Training is an on-site activity consisting of:

- Developing an Active Threat Response Plan of Action for YOUR specific school
- Developing and follow a daily secure protocol on YOUR specific school campus
- Teaching everyone how to "LOOK" for things that are "Out of the Norm"
- Teaching how to "REPORT" an incident or security infraction in a timely and accurate manner
- Should an Active Threat engage the school – how to "RESPOND"
- How to utilize Protective Tactical Gear and Equipment
- How to respond to law enforcement as they arrive on campus

Blastboards.com

The Blast Board armored panels are made using a proprietary blend of lightweight ballistic Kevlar and Dyneema/Spectra material. They are designed to be lightweight for ease of movement while providing optimal NIJ Level III protection.

PAKJACKET.com

PAK-Jackets™ are NIJ Level IIIA ballistic jackets that are used for protection in the event of an active threat or in the event of a tornado or fire. These jackets are cut-proof and fire retardant.

Ballisticdesk.com

These desk top panels can be fastened to existing desks or manufactured as new desks. Their lightweight design allows for ease of movement while providing optimal NIJ-III ballistic protection.

SHELTR Vision™ Mobile App

Developed for iPhone and Android systems, the SHELTR Vision™ mobile application allows direct communication with authorities while in a crisis situation. Utilizing video, sound, GPS, and an emergency location beacon, authorities monitor your situation as they speed to your location.

ENSSA.org— Educators National School Safety Association (ENSSA™) was founded to promote knowledge and training for all educators in order to keep our schools safe from violence. ENSSA™ provides school communities and their school safety partners with professional training services and products that assists in the event of school violence. ENSSA identifies and promotes strategies and best practices for all persons involved in making schools as safe as possible from potential threats. We believe through proper training and current technology, we can keep our schools safe for all students.

Website: www.sheltrusa.com
Email: training@sheltrusa.com
Phone: 434 792 8116

Proud Sponsor of:

